PROJECTS

Vendor-Performance • 4/2025 – 6/2025

End-to-end analysis of vendor efficiency using data-driven insights on cost, delivery, and quality metrics.

- Automated vendor performance analysis using Python to evaluate cost, delivery time, and quality metrics across datasets
- Performed feature correlation and trend analysis to identify key drivers impacting vendor efficiency and reliability
- Built end-to-end data analytics workflow including data cleaning, EDA, and insight generation for decision support
- Delivered actionable insights through visualizations and summary reports to support vendor selection and optimization

NullP • 9/2024 - 1/2025

NullP is a Python library that automates missing value detection, analysis, and intelligent imputation. It is crafted with over 2,000 lines of code.

- Engineered methods handling 5+ types of data inconsistencies including duplicates, missing values, and outliers.
- Automated normalization, standardization, feature selection — reducing preprocessing time by 70%.
- Integrated dynamic AutoML-driven preprocessing, adapting to real-world dataset structures.
- Boosted downstream model accuracy by producing consistently cleaner datasets in just one line of code.
